

Thomas Bounds - I help individuals and teams reach and maintain success once thought unreachable. Do you, or does your team, need the experience of success? Think of the one word that brought you to this point: problem, hope, frustration, fear, challenge, stuck, vision, or idea, for examples. Maybe your word is not in this list, but whatever your word you know you need help moving beyond your word in a positive direction. I get great joy as a coach guiding individuals and teams to discover new answers and solutions to the issues that bring them to the coaching arena. What is the success you seek? How do you define success for yourself or your team? When you share your answer with me I will joyfully help you begin moving in that direction and our goal will be to reach the success of your dreams.

I have my CLC through Coach Approach Ministries, and I am aggressively pursuing my ACC through ICF.
